

I had the pleasure of working with Steve for 8+ years at Alpine Chapel. Steve is experienced, knowledgeable, thorough and detailed in his approach to communication. Whether on the small platform of inner-office communiqué, or on the stage delivering to a larger audience, Steve is creative and articulate. While an accomplished writer and a talented graphic designer, what sets Steve apart from others, is that these talents are complimented by his flair in communicating a message through music and creative arts. Steve's attention to detail is remarkable, leading to a finished product that is far from ordinary.

Highly personable and engaging, Steve's teams and his colleagues alike enjoy working with him, which only aids in his effectiveness.
