

He's been called the most indispensable person on the team, both in a private conversation I had with his team leader and with a number of others who have worked both directly and indirectly with Steve Christensen. His masterful accomplishments resolving critical problems with deadlines have demonstrated, and in the five years I've known him, a propensity for both applied wisdom and multifaceted creativity. Steve is also among the most articulate and effective communicators I've encountered. Both as a writer and speaker, he excels in the discipline of resonating his message with a communication style and word-use familiar to each audience. Beyond these important qualities, Steve is also a reliable team player and problem-solver with a proven track record. His personality is that of a selfless giver, acquainted with the demands of an often thankless job from which he is able derive success as motivating reward. Trustworthy and diligent, Steve embodies the gifts that will add tremendous value to the effort of whoever is able to successfully recruit him.
